A Merge is Happening Timbervalley Messages Rained Out.

Timbervalleymessages@gmail.com started having problems and became hard to handle. About that time Timber Valley started using Rainedout as an emergency alert system. RainedOut will send messages to email addresses and phones able to receive text messages.

Work is underway to merge the two systems. Those that had signed up for Timbervalley-Messages will continue to receive their messages by email. You don't have to do a thing, once the merge is complete you will receive alert and emergency messages by email just like it was. The Log and the minutes are available on the website and will not be sent out as messages.
