Jacks and Jills invites participation

Every Timber Valley member belongs to Jacks and Jills, a busy group that benefits us all. Think of our Social Hours, our designer T-shirts, the fun game nights. And think of our parties and social events, many planned around a shared meal. Two of those special events – the Saint Patrick's celebration and a Wednesday soup lunch -- had to be cancelled last week because too few members offered to help with preparation, serving and cleaning. If events like this are important to you, think too of the work that's involved and consider contributing your own time and energy to help make them happen. Chris Beith, Chair of Jacks and Jills, has tempted us with the possibility of a Chili Cookoff in the future. We can also anticipate other events like Timber Valley Days, a Halloween party, and holiday dinners. Do you want them to happen? When you sign up for an event, be an active Jacks and Jills member and sign up too for the behind-the-scenes support it needs.

Mr. Gobble Found

Congratulations to Rhonda Scott, who found the elusive Mr. Gobble on his very first day of hiding. Dairy Queen, here comes Rhonda with her $15 gift certificate! See the complete fun story of Rhonda's discovery on the Timber Valley WebSite.

News from Furry Friends

- ❖ Thanks to the considerate members who pick up after their dogs in the dog park. We try to watch our dogs, but there are occasional oversights, and we all appreciate everyone's picking up after another's dog when it happens. Kudos to us!
- ❖ A little help with the screens, please. The screens are there to break the wind and rain in the winter and to provide shade in the summer. If you slide them away, please return them to their back and side positions, and hook them.
- ❖ Furry Friends would like to install pavers around the pet drinking area and, if funds allow, at the entrance to the dog park. We'll host a fund-raiser in the spring for these improvements. If you would like to donate to this cause now, leave your check, made payable to Suzi Rupert, in mailbox #200.
- ❖ Personalized 12x12 pavers with your dog's name are still available for only $20. See or call Suzi to order.

And another Reminder ...

All extra rigs kept in members' lots for the winter need to be taken to the Storage Area by April 1.
