Emergency Prep Tip: When You're On Your Own at 4am

From Your Emergency Preparedness Committee

Sometimes emergency preparedness means having what you need at 4am. A small bedside kit keeps essentials within reach when you're sick, in pain, or on your own.

Consider:

- Water and electrolytes
- Basic health-monitoring items you normally use
- A small assortment of over-the-counter medications for common needs
- A backup supply of prescription medications, when feasible
- Spare eyeglasses or other personal necessities
- Phone and charger
- Emergency contact information

Check expiration dates and keep medications away from pets.
